RUSSIA'S HOPE

Sees Debt Pact if

MOSCOW, Nov. 6. (P.)—Premier Alex Ivanovich Rykoff, president of the council of commissars of soviet Russia, gave an exclusive interview to the Associated Press correspondent today on the occasion of the opening of the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the revolution. The premier answered a number of questions which were submitted to him.

He declared the Russo-French debt negotiations prove that similar negotiations with the United States are possible. The debts due America at present, he added, constituted a comparatively simple problem, since they were obligations incurred during the revolution as distinguished from purely market debts.

"Recognition of all the czarist debts in principle is a maxim laid down by Charles E. Hughes—for us is impossible," he said. "The differences between soviet Russia and the United States could be readily straightened out once both sides get to conference."

No Reason to Stay Home.

"You want my opinions on Russo-American relations," he said. "My answer is that the Russo-French negotiations may well furnish a sign that comes from the present deadlock is possible. I can see no reason why the great peoples should stay so sorely because the Russian people have a different and heretofore unknown kind of government."

"With propaganda objections eliminated, we're prepared to furnish as possible guarantees in this respect, there remains the seemingly biggest obstacle—the question of debts, which can be solved once the two sides get to conference. We want political and economic cooperation with the United States. We offer American capital, the easiest and safest opportunity for investment, but we cannot do it at a loss economically entailing Russia's future generations."

Now Achievements of Ten Years.

Want to indicate Russia's chief achievements in the last decade, the premier said.

"Ten years ago the world doubted if the Russian peasant existed and still does without the landowner? Can Russian industry exist and develop without the private industrialist? Today we can answer both queries with a firm 'yes.'

"Russia's overwhelming difficulties come within and without have been solved, production considerably, laying the foundation for a really industrialized Russia without outside help worth speaking of."

Condor Story of Desolation.

Special messages, Red Cross statements, army reports, and Associated Press dispatches all confirm the story of desolation which was spread through the New England valleys. But to the south and east the damage toll was never decreasing, thanks to the broadness of the rivers and the warning received.

Montpelier, Barre, Bolton, Richmond, and Waterbury, Vt., the hardest hit towns of all, were watching the waters recede from their streets. Undismayed by the tremendous heaps of debris, the ruined houses and torn up roads which the waters left behind, the people were hard at work making the most essential repairs.

Roads Are Blocked.

Springfield, Mass., and the towns around it saw the waters sweep in over many square miles of territory, but apparently there was no loss of life, and this afternoon, the flood was subsiding, leaving about 6,000 homeless in this region alone.

Efforts to help the sufferers in the upper valleys were hampered and rendered almost impossible by the storms, which prevented airplanes from reaching many of the devastated towns with supplies, particularly in Vermont. Communications by mail or road still are quite impracticable.

Tells of Relief Work.

Army airplanes, under direction of Lieut. Col. Fouliot, commander of Mitchel Field, L. I., who arrived today to take charge and flew to Concord, N. H., to make a survey of the flooded district, are flying over the most affected districts distributing antityphoid serum, medicine, and food.

Messages telling of the general progress of the relief work were received at Boston army headquarters.

Airmen attempting to carry supplies to the stricken town of Northfield, Vt., were prevented from turning back by a snowstorm which is over the general area between Ludlow and Bethel, it was reported today by Gov. John E. Weeks of Vermont in a radiogram to Maj. Gen. Preston Brown at the army base, South Boston.

In the message Gov. Weeks declined the offer of assistance, whether troops or planes, sent him by Maj. Gen. Brown, explaining that food stocks are adequate, but that sugar, salt and yeast are needed in particular, where the governor is now.

REFUGEES FACE HUNGER; PLANES DELIVER FOOD

6,000 Homeless at Springfield, Mass.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6. [Special.]

Snowstorms driven before a cold, biting wind were adding today to the misery inflicted upon thousands of homeless New Englanders by the floods of the last few days. Army airplanes carried medicines and food to many of the flood swept towns.

Flood shortages in many places, and for the most part in those which are the most isolated from sources of supply, and wrecked sewage systems are leading to the possibility of hunger and disease. Lighting and heating plants are dark and cold, and the suffering from exposure is becoming greater.

The crest of the flood has passed down to the Lower Connecticut and Merrimac rivers, permitting the streams in the upper valleys to return within their banks. Behind them the people of the devastated district are rallying to the work of relief for their fellow sufferers and reconstruction, too busy to list the dead or recapitulate the loss to property.

Dead Now Number 125.

However, the known dead already number 125 and it is feared this will be considerably increased when all the returns are in. The homeless can only be estimated by the tens of thousands and the property damage by the millions.

The waters leaving the upper valley towns were pouring down upon those nearer the sea tonight and some of these are already suffering damage with the worst yet to come. At Hartford, Conn., the Connecticut river had risen to 28 feet 9 inches and still was going up. If it goes to 30 feet, as is expected, the city will be without electric power, gas, and telephone service.

Hundreds of persons in East Hartford have been driven from their homes and the Red Cross has opened a temporary center. Roads south of Hartford are under water and Middletown is in darkness, with the river rising rapidly there.

proper contacts" with jurors in some cases and in others to make the jurors believe, it is claimed, that they were being trailed by department of justice agents.

Several of the jurors have told Assistant District Attorney Neil Burkshaw, in charge of the grand jury investigation, that they did think they were being watched by the government and resented it.

Given Juror to Shadow.

A "special report" made by N. Y. Investigator M-20 on Oct. 19, the day after the jury was sworn, reads:

"Pursuant to instructions from Principal W. J. E., I left the agency and proceeded to Washington, D. C., to meet manager C. G. B. Upon arrival I was given Juror No. 10—William H. Goucher—as my subject."

Included in the reports is the activity of a Burns detective known only as "Philadelphia. Investigator S-70."

As the story is developed through the daily reports covering a period of eight or nine days, "S-70" was apparently assigned to watch a particular juror and, by investigation, found out the juror's closest friend.

The friend was hard to meet, however, and so "S-70" struck up an acquaintance with a friend of the friend. According to the detective's report, "After the theater we had dinner at the Occidental, took a walk and went to the Kenesaw apartments, a place where one may obtain refreshments. This man is very anxious I locate here and with my pretext I feel sure I will connect with — very shortly."

Makes Some Progress.

On the following day, the report continues, "S-70" met the "friend of a friend of the juror" and made some progress as follows:

"At 4:30 p. m. I met —, had dinner and went to the theater. We then went to Claridge Apartments at 1694 'O' street and had some refreshments. Mr. — said that — had gone to the races, but that he would try to introduce me tomorrow."

Continuing his effort to meet the juror's friend, "S-70" on the next morning went to his office with the friend's friend, but "subject was out and they did not know when he would be back."

"Shadowing" Worries Jurors.

Other reports are claimed to substantiate the government's charge that a deliberate attempt was made to intimidate some of the Teapot jurors by posting strangers near their houses

FALL'S CONDITION IS BETTER; WILL RETURN SOON TO NEW MEXICO

Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Improvement in the condition of Albert E. Fall has become so marked that he is considering returning soon to his home in New Mexico.

The lung congestion that has confined the former secretary of the interior and co-defendant with Harry F. Sinclair in the Teapot Dome conspiracy case to his bed is clearing up, his physician, Dr. James J. Kilroy, today told Mrs. Fall. He said that unless complications arise his patient would have to remain here only long enough to gain strength for the trip home.

Assured that the danger point in Mr. Fall's illness has passed, Mark B. Mencken's article in yesterday's Times on the subject, "The Sport of Emperors," by Dr. W. H. Boddy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who preached on "How Wars Are Made."

"It would be well if all read the Mencken article," said Dr. Boddy.

"It would be especially helpful to ministers for too many of them minimize war in times of peace and land it in times of war."

"Ministers should keep their balance and not say in times of peace what they would not say in times of war what they would not say in times of peace."

Wife Joins Husband in Battle; Rout Robbers

Two men armed with revolvers entered the restaurant of Nicholas Vorker at 2947 Dresser boulevard and demanded money last night. Instead of complying Vorker grappled with them. His cries attracted the attention of his wife, Anna, and she joined in the fight. Mrs. Vorker was struck on the head with a revolver butt, but the resistance she and her husband put up induced the bandits to flee without getting anything.

who maintained a constant watch throughout the day and until 3 o'clock every morning.

A report made by investigator "M-20" indicates how the fact that some of the jurors were being watched was observed by neighbors, who in turn, later told the jurors themselves.

"A man came out of a nearby house and got into a car," declares "M-20's" report for Oct. 25, "and seemed very much worried about me, following me in his car. Finally he drove to police sergeant, who was parked in a car two blocks away. The sergeant stopped me, stating I had been reported as a suspicious character.

Questioned by Sergeant.

"He questioned me very closely and told me his instructions were to take in any strangers hanging around after 11 p. m. He put me in his car, but after talking to him he finally put me on a trolley going in town, following the car for about ten blocks."

DELIVER AT NIGHT, NEW YORK PLAN TO EASE TRAFFIC JAM

New York, Nov. 6.—[Special.]—A night delivery plan has been formulated for alleviation of traffic congestion in New York City.

The growing problem of increasing congestion of vehicular traffic in the principal business districts of New York has reached a state which prompted action by merchants, manufacturers, real estate owners, and others materially affected by present congestion.

The erection of many big buildings, especially in the midtown area, has resulted in a concentration of huge business which daily involves the movement of an immense volume of merchandise. Trucks used in the movement of this merchandise fill the streets at the busy times of the day, at which an extent traffic is slowed to a costly and wasteful point.

These handicaps would be averted if, all delivery to business houses in congested districts, whether by freight, express, or by manufacturers' or wholesalers' trucks, were effected between 11 p. m. and 8 a. m. A plan for such service is being worked out.

DIVORCES GROW AT FASTER RATE THAN MARRIAGES

Percentage of Increase
Based on Population.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Divorces continued to increase at a faster rate than marriages during 1926, the commerce department announces in its annual report.

Marriages for the year totaled 1,202,678, an increase of 1.2 per cent over 1925, but 1926 divorces granted numbered 150,863, an increase of 3.1 per cent.

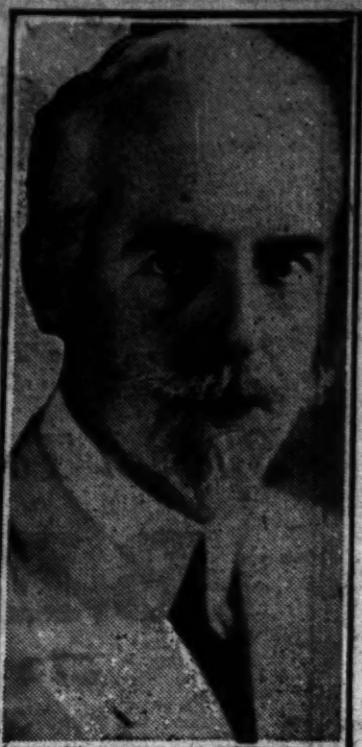

A loss of popularity for marriage was read into the statistics, because while weddings increased 1.2 per cent, the gain in total population was estimated at 1.5 per cent for the year.

For the United States as a whole, the average rate of marriage in 1926 was 16.26 per 1,000 of population, but states differed greatly in this respect. In Florida 1926 marriages were equal to 21.6 per 1,000 of population; in Maryland, 16.25; while in Delaware the rate fell to 4.8 and in Wisconsin to 5.8.

For the entire nation the divorce rate per year was 1.5 at 1.5 divorces per 1,000 of population. Nevada, by this standard, still holds its pre-eminence, for the state's rate was 13.18.

URGES END OF WAR

HENRY WICKHAM STEED.

ENGLISHMAN SAYS AMERICA SHOULD BE FIRST IN PEACE

Introducing his remarks with some paeans about the King George situation in Chicago, Henry Wickham Steed, British editor, told a capacity audience of the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall last night his conception of how this country might earn in the eyes of the nations the title "America First."

If the United States should create a document as binding and monumental as the Monroe Doctrine, agreeing not to aid an aggressive nation in war, Steed said, "the scourge of war would be removed from the world."

In offering this plan Steed said he was not criticizing Mayor Thompson's America first slogan, but was merely offering his respectful cooperation in determining what is implied in that boast.

"It is true that some temerity may be needed as an Englishman to speak in Chicago tonight," he said in opening his address. "So I will take the precaution of pointing out that the language of Abraham Lincoln is still the official language of the United States. But I am subject to this reservation—that if you desire me to do so, I will address you in French, German, or Italian."

U.S. HUNTER BAGS 25 LIONS AT SHOT -WITH A CAMERA

of Jungle Beasts.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—After five months spent in central Africa, hunting with pistol and gun, Frederick V. Patterson, head of the National Cash Register company, has returned to civilization with what perhaps is one of the world's finest collections of pictures of wild animals.

The prize of the lot is a movie of a group of twenty-five lions taken at a distance of twenty feet—a completely peaceful scene. This picture is but a part of 20,000 feet of film of lions, elephants, rhinoceros and other lords of the jungle. None of Mr. Patterson's pictures was taken at a greater distance than 100 feet.

Shoots Golden Baboon.

Picture taken was the primary object of Mr. Patterson's expedition, which lasted all through the summer and into the fall. Shooting was secondary. However, he shot sixteen lions, two elephants, six buffaloes, three rhinoceros, six cheetas, and—rarest of all—a golden baboon.

He also shot a rare black male antelope, various specimens of gazelles and twenty varieties of birds.

Along with Mr. Patterson's film are hundreds of still pictures, and a ton or so of skins and heads. He shipped to New York from Sues one live lion, one leopard, one cheetah, six live baboons and a fifteen-foot python. These are going to the Museum of Natural History of Dayton, O.

Mr. Patterson explained he tried to get the python back to the United States alive, but the big serpent was hard to handle and he was killed to prevent tragedies. Mr. Patterson said he discovered this python on the ground, but when he started toward it it went up a tree. So did Mr. Patterson, and he put a noose around the reptile's head, slipped down the tree and with the help of natives dragged the python into captivity.

Trains Captured Apes.

His best wishes, he said, went along with baboons, because he had trained them for his members of his party. They accompanied him over rough roads for two months. They were good natured, he said.

"Mr. Patterson said, "we went over much country where white men had been shot and this fact accounted for our reaction. Our good fortune in getting pictures, especially pictures of lions. In one district there were lions everywhere. They could be seen morning, noon and night."

"I had one white man with me, Finch Hatten, an Englishman from Nairobi, and we took along 100 Negros. It was in Upper Kenya that we got our good lion pictures. If any other white man has ever stood twenty to twenty-five feet from twenty lions, he has a bunch and made 200 feet of film of them playing about I never heard of him. Those lions were wonderfully tame."

Lions Paid State Comrade.

"One afternoon we came on eight lions in a group, one of which had a magnificent black mane. I shot him and he lay down, dead. The others then patted him with their paws as if to tell him to get up and be on his way. Finally, he went away except one lioness, and I had to shoot her to get the male."

"I saw two natives spear a big lion in a hand to hand contest.

"It was in upper Kenya that I shot the golden baboon. Hatten, who knows all the animals in Central Africa, had never seen a golden baboon before."

Hatten was bitten by a crocodile while they were crossing a stream.

Clash in Debate ON VOTING RIGHT

"A clash between Edward N. Neckels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and David McVey, delegate from the lathers' union, occurred yesterday at a conference of the federation to discuss a resolution of McVey's to restrict the privilege of voting and of holding office in the organization to those who attend at least eight or ten meetings a year. The resolution was voted down, Neckels opposing it.

A vote of confidence was given Harry Winnick, delegate of the retail clerks' union, now held in the county jail on a contempt charge by Judge Denis E. Sullivan. Winnick was given a sentence of 30 days and fined $500 on a charge of violating a strike injunction. A committee of federation delegates is to visit Winnick during the coming week.

Negotiations are now complete to accept the 33,000 members of the Chicago Carpenters' District council back into the fold of the Chicago Building Trades' council, it was announced.

The carpenters withdrew from the council six years ago over a difference in connection with the operation of the Landis wage award.

FACULTY HOLDS IDEAS OPPOSING BADGER R. O. T. C.

Called "Indifference" by Unit Commander.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—[Special]—Incompatibility of the principles of the R. O. T. C. with the ideas held by a majority of the faculty in regard to world politics is one of the underlying causes of the disintegration of the cadet corps in the University of Wisconsin, it is charged by military students.

While the commander of the unit, Col. Joseph F. Barnes, declared that the faculty and administration is "not back of the R. O. T. C." he intimated that because his personal relations with his colleagues had been agreeable, he would accuse them of nothing more than indifference. But those in his command, desiring anonymity, observe that the predominant attitude of the faculty—radical or pacifistic—there is little opportunity for the student to realize the importance or desirability of training himself for patriotic defense.

Faculty is Interviewed.

It was at the suggestion of the R. O. T. C. instructors that a number of the influential faculty members were sounded as to their doctrines on the national and military question. Two of them, Dr. Max Otto and Dr. Alexander Melville John, declared themselves thoroughgoing pacifists; Dr. E. A. Ross is a militant foe of the militarist; Dr. Pitman B. Potter believes and teaches that the league of nations had worked effectively in settling international disputes; Dr. Frederick L. Paxton, although favoring measures for defense, questioned whether military training has a place on the university campus; and President Glenn Frank compared the militarist with the jingo.

Coincident with the decline of the R. O. T. C., Dr. William E. Meanwell, basketball coach, points out that the Forum, a student organization interested in international affairs, is exerting a growing influence.

"They are a bunch of blatherskite kids and old women," Dr. Meanwell declared.

The students are not pacifistic, but are vigorously and combatively interested in a series of radical ideas for world reorganization in the memory of the student attitude by Dr. Pitman B. Potter and Dr. Maxwell, who received the reception that was given Bertrand Russell when he talked in the university gymnasium last Wednesday night under the auspices of the Forum as evidence of their view.

Students are Encouraged.

More than 4,000 students and faculty members poured into the gymnasium and many of them for lack of seats clung to the girders while Russell developed his plan for a practical super-government, far surpassing the league of nations in power.

Russell was introduced by Dr. Melville John, head of the experimental college.

"An institution of learning," Dr. Melville John declared, "must be in a certain sense pacifistic. In the nature of the case, it must work for peace rather than war. We are studying human arrangements to see how they can be improved or kept from falling back. With this purpose in mind we must try to find ways of preventing war just as we try to see how disease or starvation can be prevented or diminished."

"It would be strange if an institution which seeks to find better methods of growing corn or of managing business should ignore the possibility of removing from human activities the brutalities and wastefulness of fighting. They differ on this point; I suppose chiefly in the degree of their impetuosity as to success in the venture."

Would Define Pacifism.

Dr. Otto of the philosophy department, who has an extensive and friendly audience among the students, is avowedly a thorough-going pacifist.

"The university," Dr. Otto declared, in explaining his position, "has to train the student, in the first place, to take his place in the business and professional world. On the other hand it has to give him a knowledge of moral issues. In teaching the practical courses, the issues are well defined, but the difficulty in approaching an interpretation of such moral issues as religion and pacifism has been that the meanings are not clarified."

In considering the problem of pa-

International Organization," also refuses to be classified as a pacifist. His understanding of a pacifist is a conscientious objector in wartime who prefers a jail cell to a uniform.

For International Peace.

"I am devoted," Dr. Potter declared, "to working for international peace through the league of nations, the league reorganized, or any other similar organization. I don't see many defects in the league of nations, it is organized as present, as a type of thing for handling international disputes. It is working effectively and has only slight, not great, then on inconsequential matters. Its greatest sources of weakness now are the Tory government in Great Britain and the reactionary position of this country. France and Germany are far more devoted to the game of international cooperation at the present time than are England or the United States."

Of the group of men interviewed, Dr. Paxson of the history department was the only staunch militarist and nationalist. And incidentally the only one of two men on the faculty who has been accused of pro-British tendencies. A group of German-Americans in Milwaukee, he said, have attacked some of his writings as being dictated from Buckingham Palace. He has refused to answer his critics.

Was Major in War.

"I was a major in the last war and I will be a major in the next one," Dr. Paxson asserted. "But I have serious doubts that military training can be satisfactorily absorbed into the university. I don't believe that it is compatible with the sort of thing we are doing here."

In commenting on the attitude of his pacifistic and radical colleagues, Dr. Paxson declared that they represented a tendency common to the middle west and particularly to the state of Wisconsin.

"The world war cost the United States twice as much as it would have been prepared. The United States today is in a dangerous position in the world in which we live, but we don't live in contact with foreign nations here and our folks have no fear. In the absence of fear they become sentimental and have a horror of bloodshed. They don't mean it, but they are too indifferent to study the essentials of the situation."

MAYOR AND 800 GO TO DEMAND FLOOD CONTROL

Thompson Leads Singing as 10 Trains Pull Out.

(Pictures on back page.) To the tune of his campaign song, "America First, Last and Always," sung by the police quartet and accompanied by an Italian stringed trio, Mayor Thompson and 800 of his followers left yesterday for Washington to appear as a delegation before the flood control committee of congress.

Ten trains were used by the delegates, five leaving from the Grand Central station over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the other five leaving over the Pennsylvania.

Mayor Thompson arrived at the Grand Central depot yesterday morning before nine, and was immediately called for the police quartet. Singing through megaphones and led by the mayor, the quartet made the station reverberate.

The flood control emblems of red, white, and blue bearing the name of William Hale Thompson prominently displayed on the rear of each train gave a gay effect.

Gov. Small and his delegation of state employees arrived here in the morning, led by the Pennsylvania. The governor and the mayor did not meet before leaving and the two parties were kept distinct.

In Washington Mayor Thompson will be the first to speak before Frank R. Reid's committee on flood control. The delegation will give a two day demonstration in favor of flood control legislation before the Senate goes to Mount Carmel, Pa., for a speech.

Among those in the Thompson party are Horner K. Galpin, Michael Kelly, Oscar Nelson, Edward F. Moore, Richard W. Wolfe, Morris Eller, John English, William Scott, Stewart, Bernard J. Cermak, Timothy D. Crowe, and Anton J. Cermak.

The Shantung commander, Gen. Chang Chung-chang, is concentrating his troops at Tangshan, on the border between Honan and Kiangsu.

PANAMA STIRRED BY PLEA FOR U. S. HAND IN VOTING

PANAMA, C. Z., Nov. 6. (UPI)—Expectation prevails in political quarters over certain declarations credited to former President Porras, now leader of the opposition.

"Panama," the former president said, "is only twenty-four years old and is not sufficiently prepared to undertake by itself the holding of elections. The intervention of the United States is nothing new. If the United States does not supervise the elections next year a very difficult situation will arise in Panama, similar to the situation prevailing in Nicaragua."

Several high officers in the government, commenting on Porras' declaration, asserted that such an amount of high treason. President Chiari declared emphatically: "There will be neither intervention nor revolution here, as Porras threatens. The national government, however, is ready to stifle with a strong hand any attempt to disturb order, and to reestablish order wherever it may be disturbed."

EMMERSO MAY ENTER GOVERNOR RACE THIS WEEK

G. O. P. Roundup Slated
at His Home Thursday.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Emerson, secretary of state, and announce his candidacy for the governorship of Illinois this week.

According to reports in G. O. P. circles, again he may not. But there is to be a big Republican roundup at his home at Mount Vernon Thursday afternoon.

It is said that Emerson will be in or sixty counties represented.

Emerson declines to discuss what he will have to say on that question, but leaves the way open for him to do so.

Emerson has planned the demonstration for several weeks, keeping the secret from him successfully until a few days ago.

Wonder What He'll Say.

The same friends have believed for months that the secretary of state should seek promotion at the hands of the voters and that he would speak at the right time. About the only question in their minds now is whether he will go all the way on Thursday and lend himself to indicating his candidacy.

If Emerson does announce himself as a candidate, political affairs downstate will be due to warm up next Monday when Attorney General Oscar C. Christiansen opens his speaking campaign for governor and starts on a tour of downstate counties by automobile.

On Monday the attorney general will cover White county and a part of DuPage county, starting at Graysville in the early morning, speaking at Crossville, Carroll, Morris City and Eldorado during the morning and afternoon and winding up with the main meeting of the day at Harrisburg in the evening.

He announced yesterday he will campaign on the remaining days of the month through Johnson, Massac, Hardin, Pope, Gallatin, Williamson, Jackson, Union, Pulaski and Alexander counties. He will resume his travels following Monday.

Chicago Democracy Stirred.

Democratic affairs in Cook county were stirred a bit yesterday by the announcement of a movement to run Municipal Judge Joseph Burke for the nomination for the state's attorneyship.

Back of it are service men, among whom Judge Burke has been active, particularly as the organizer of Blackhawk post of the American Legion of which he was the first commander.

An announcement of the plan emphasized the fact that Judge Burke had his ticket for the city bench in both the primary and the election last year. It also mentioned that he is a graduate of newsboys' alley.

There has been no indication of how the Democrats organize to relieve the Burke candidacy, which has been rumored for some time, but the best opinion is that the party chiefs will nominate Circuit Judge William J. Lindsay for the state's attorneyship, largely because of his experience in the Criminal courts, where he has passed three of his four years on the bench.

CITY EXPLOITING COLORED PEOPLE, PASTOR ASSERTS

The congregation of Grace Chapel, African Methodist Episcopal church, at 34th street and Wabash avenue, numbering about 2,000 members, yesterday heard the pastor, Dr. H. E. Stewart, declare that the colored people of Chicago are being exploited by the city administration.

"We recognize," said Dr. Stewart, "that in general Mayor Thompson has been a friend to the colored people of Chicago, but this is no reason why our friends should be made a cloak for a wide open town. Vice and gambling resorts which make a big financial patronage of our people are on the increase. It is time that Christian people speak out on the subject and create a sentiment that will stop these immoral conditions."

NEW YORK FACES PARTY BATTLE IN VOTE TOMORROW

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—Voters of the New York state will vote Tuesday on nine proposed constitutional amendments, elect 150 assemblymen, a state senator, a congressman, and ten Supreme court justices. Mayors also are to be elected in 61 cities of the state.

Interest has centered chiefly in the amendment designed to increase the term of governor to four years with gubernatorial elections in presidential years. The Democratic organization charges that the measure is a Republican move to capture control of the state by submerging the election of governor under interest in national issues and candidates in presidential years.

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY GETS ITS HEARING.

The business of solving one of this country's greatest humanitarian and economic problems is to begin today when the Reid congressional committee meets in Washington to decide what can be done to prevent a recurrence of the flood which last spring overwhelmed a great portion of the Mississippi valley.

Flood control in the Mississippi basin is essential to midwestern prosperity. Hundreds of square miles under water, thousands made homeless, property and business destroyed—it is a catastrophe that must not be duplicated if human skill can prevent it.

It is a federal problem, legally and practically. The federal government has domain over the river. A project affecting so many communities, counties, and states is one most effectively handled under central control.

In Mississippi flood control is a problem made for the display of scientific skill, expert efficiency.

Political expediency has no place. The waters of the Mississippi know no party or sectional lines. It is an endeavor to relieve suffering and prevent future suffering. It is essentially altruistic.

Yet few occasions have been so vividly seized on by the political demagogue as has the flood control movement. Few have seen such a descent of the credit seeking mob as now threatens.

It is about to be forgotten in the rush for favorable publicity. Science looks to be doomed under an avalanche of bombast. Economic considerations threaten to be sidetracked to make way for political expediency.

Now that the second flood is checked, irreparable damage may be done to the essential cause. Nothing or worse than nothing—a project serving political purposes instead of the inhabitants of the Mississippi valley—will result.

As a friend of the valley to which we belong, we hope that those who confidently wait for relief will not be disappointed by their leaders.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE WOMAN'S PARTY.

The two women election officials who were sentenced to jail in the course of Judge Jarecki's investigation of election frauds have been freed on bond by the Appellate court. The higher court is going to determine whether women may legally serve as election officials. If women cannot be judges and clerks of election, then these two women committed no offense, it is contended, and cannot be punished.

This is right in the Woman's party's tobacco pouch. This is something to get embattled about. Rather, it is two things to get embattled about. Aside from the issue of woman's equality at the polls there is the question of woman's equality in the jail. A woman certainly should have the right to eat and sleep at the county's expense if she has taken all the qualifying steps required of a man. No right thinking member of the Woman's party can permit this sort of thing to go on unchallenged.

WHY NOT IN SHIPPING?

The Canadian Pacific railroad, it is announced, is soon to add five new modern cargo vessels to its fleet, to be run in service between Montreal, London, and continental ports. The C. P. R. is already one of the greatest ship owners in the world. It has vessels in the Atlantic and on the Pacific.

Immediately the question arises, Why cannot American railroads do the same thing? Edward M. Hurley, former head of the shipping board, made the suggestion some time ago. He offered it as a likely solution to the problem of maintaining a successful American merchant marine and of getting the present fumbling shipping business out of the hands of the government and into private hands. The railroads are already in the transportation business, he said. Why not let them extend into shipping?

Why not? Why can't American railroads make a success of the shipping business if a Canadian railroad can?

BARGAIN HUNTING IN ALABAMA.

The attorney general of Alabama has disclosed the fact that in one county, Talladega, there have been fifty-six dippings in the last three years. Some of the victims were women. The homes of two families were dynamited and a number of barns were burned. All but a few of those who were whipped have fled from the state in fear of further violence.

Following these and other disclosures of the same tenor, the governor of Alabama called the attorney general into conference. The governor feared that the cost of prosecuting the terrorists was becoming too great a drain upon the treasury. The attorney general estimated the cost at $100 a prosecution, to which the governor objected on the ground that it might mean an expense to the state of as much as $10,000.

The attitude of the governor is ominous. Either he is unaware of the orgiastic nature of these dippings or, aware of it, he is indifferent. In either case, the chief executive of the state is so little conscious of the first duty of government—the protection of the lives and property of citizens—that $10,000 seems to him a high price to pay for it. The $10,000 which it might cost to stamp out organized terrorism in Alabama is less than the cost of half a mile of concrete highway.

A RE-READING OF THE LODGE RESOLUTION.

The renewed proposal to conduct a German owned air line from South to Central America by way of the Panama Canal Zone rightfully arouses American uneasiness. One of the line's bases, it is reported, is to be in the Zone itself. Demands are being made that the United States government take steps to halt the German venture, and that foreign competition be permanently discouraged by the establishment of a United States mail line or, if necessary, a subsidized American line connecting the United States with Central and South America.

Unless the United States wishes to withdraw from the position it has maintained and expanded upon since 1823, there is only one course to follow. It was found necessary in 1912 to extend the provisions of the Monroe Doctrine, which did not foresee the day when governmental influences might be vicariously exercised through commercial enterprises and corporations. A Japanese company sought to buy over Magdalena bay on the west coast of Mexican California. The resolution drawn up by Senators Lodge and Root, and now known by the former's name, was the result. When a similar attempt was talked of in the spring of 1926, the Lodge resolution was again quoted and again proved its potency.

It is time for the Lodge resolution to be read once more:

"Resolved, That when any harbor or other place in the American continents is so situated that the occupation thereof for naval or military purposes might threaten the communications or the safety of the United States, the government of the United States could not see, without grave concern, the possession of such harbor or other place by any corporation or association which has such relation to another government not American as to give that government practical power of control for naval or military purposes."

"Harbor or other place," the resolution says. It is as applicable now to the situation in the Canal Zone as it was fifteen years ago, and nineteen months ago in the case of Magdalena bay.

We can imagine no power in the eastern hemisphere, occidental or oriental, permitting an American company to establish an air route over and based near the key position of its scheme of national defense. We should not regard any move made by a foreign power to prevent such an establishment as anything more hostile than an exercise of common sense in the business of self-preservation.

The doctrine of self-preservation is older even than that enunciated by President Monroe, 104 years ago.

The safety of the Panama canal is essential to the safety of the United States. By its nature the canal is peculiarly susceptible to attack from the air. This government cannot contemplate, "without grave concern," the establishment of an air route by any non-American foreign government in the strategic vicinity of the Panama canal.

The administration, and perhaps the congress, should make clear that new inventions and new institutions creating new sets of circumstances do not alter the traditional position of the United States on the question of non-American intrusions into the western hemisphere.

The administration and the congress ought to further any plan for extending an American air route through Central to South America. It will be an investment in self-protection.

THE HATE FAILING.

Mr. J. writes: Am a young woman 26 years old and have a boy 3 years old. We have both just recently come home from a contagious disease hospital, after having scarlet fever and diphtheria.

Since returning home my hair has fallen out considerably, which rather worries me. Is this condition due to the disease? I wash it once a week because at the end of a week it becomes stringy and oily.

Friends have told me later on this will make my hair come in thick. Will you please advise me?

REPLY.

Your experience is a rather common one. Fortunately the hair practically always comes back. It is the diet and more vigorous than it was before the illness.

From Lookout mountain you can see the tall monument at Rossville on the edge of the field of Chickamauga. Closer in is Missionary ridge, taken by assault under Grant's eye. Not far below your feet the battle above the clouds was fought. The setting in spring is mountain laurel, rhododendron and yellow sunshine.

The new hotel on Lookout mountain is another evidence that America is being rediscovered by Americans. Improvements in accommodations for visitors are catching up with improvements in transportation and are keeping pace with the growing wealth and leisure of Americans.

Editorial of the Day

PROGRESS STEPS SOUTH.

[Michigan State Journal.]

America of the future must include the south in a degree of importance as yet only beginning to be visioned.

Here is a great fellow territory of richness, laden with possibilities for great human development, left behind in a sort of pocket, as it were, while civilization swept on to the west. The great westward sweep is now pretty much over. The south is beginning to invite as never before. There have been reasons aplenty why the south has lagged, why it has gone pretty much unnoticed while the United States developed tremendously elsewhere, but the day of those specially retarding influences must be pretty nearly over. At no distant day the great development of the south is likely to come with a rush.

When the great day of the south comes it will find itself with a homogeneous population. It will draw its new influx of population from the north. With our immigration laws as they are now, this south will fill up with those already here rather than with new material comprised of those who do not know our ways. That will give the south a tremendous advantage.

Nowhere in the world today is there such a comparatively hollow pocket waiting to be filled. The old plantation days are about over. Schools and factories and great industrial projects are going in. When the great influx and developments come the south will change politically and culturally. National progress will set its next step in the south.

Dick: In Loma Linda, Cal., there is a samarium run by Seventh Day Adventists. These good folk realize that many are slow to see the light, and so they do not exclude gentiles or other unbelievers who come there seeking treatment. Nor do they try to make proselytes, perhaps from a sporting instinct that it is an unfair advantage to take of an invalid. Nevertheless, the patients are wary, and the occasional zealot amongst the attendants who attempts to be evangelical is apt to find a rebuff.

A new arrival, scotic and short tempered, was receiving his first massage. After some moments of rubbing and kneading the masseur asked, "Are you a Seventh Day Adventist?" "No," said the new arrival, "I'm a six day bicycile rider." And then he got silent treatment. Cold, hard silence at that.

RULING AWAITED AS LEWIS TRIAL RESUMES TODAY

Court to Decide on Use of State Testimony.

A decision of vital importance to the prosecution of Harry J. [Lett] Lewis, labor agent, who is charged with the murder of Max Braverman, junk peddler, is to be rendered this morning by Judge Stanley Klarkowski when the trial is resumed. Should the judge rule in favor of the prosecution, State's Attorney Robert E. Gove will introduce testimony against the labor agent to contradict the defense contention that Braverman was killed by a bullet really intended for Lewis.

Benjamin Katz, 1533 South Lawrence avenue, who pointed out Lewis on Friday as the killer, is the witness to give the important testimony if the judge rules favorably on its admissibility. The defense objected on Friday to the telling by Katz of previous dealings with Lewis and the judge took the matter under advisement until Monday, although indicating that he would rule for the state.

Say's Trouble Is 5 Months Old.

Katz is prepared to testify, according to Assistant State's Attorneys Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne that the trouble with Lewis started five months ago.

He intends to testify that when Lewis organized the junk peddlers' union he did so on the basis of obtaining better prices for them from the dealers. Later Lewis also organized the dealers and formed a group against the union; that is, if a dealer refused to join a strike was called of the peddlers and if a peddler refused to join the dealers would boycott him.

Four to Identify Lewis.

The prosecution will parade before the jury today at least four witnesses who will identify Lewis as the killer, Prosecutors said. Among these will be Max Rosenkavitz, 1533 South Avery avenue, who was the alleged victim of Lewis' assault just before Braverman was killed. Joseph Levine, 2645 West Roosevelt road; Max Laurie, 1521 West Thirteenth street, and Leslie Kinta, 1519 South Trumbull avenue, will be the other identifying witnesses.

MOTORIST FALLS FROM AUTO TO ROAD; IS KILLED

Another Dies as Car Up-sets at Park.

Frank Divis, 37, of 6505 Roosevelt road, Oak Park, was killed yesterday when he fell from an automobile near the 43rd street bridge in Lyons.

He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, who has the same name and is the same age. The surviving Divis, who resides at 1842 Scoville avenue, Berwyn, said that he and the victim had been drinking together and that the latter leaned against the door of the car, falling out and striking his head on the pavement. Although the Lyons police expressed belief in the story, they decided to hold the brother-in-law for the inquest.

Die as Auto Upsets.

Arthur D. Tuff, 50, of 6545 Cornell avenue, was killed last night when the automobile in which he was riding alone turned over as he swung into Jackson park at 67th street and Jeffery avenue. The car took fire and passenger carried Tuff from it. He died a short time later at the Jackson Park hospital. Members of his family said that Tuff was subject to paralytic attacks and that he might have lost control of the automobile when an attack overcame him. The two deaths raised the motortoll in Cook county to 700 since Jan. 1. Dorothy Fitzgibbons, 4, of 6422 South Rockwell street, was possibly fatally injured when she was struck at 65th street and Ashland avenue by an automobile driven by Arthur Guillen, 5895 South Paulina street. She was taken to the Englewood hospital and Guillen was held.

Four Hurt in Crash.

Four persons were seriously injured when the automobile in which they were struck by a C. & E. L. train on a crossing at the station in Thornton. The car, Thea Thornton, 18, her wife, and Mrs. Mayra, 3112 Broadway, Joliet, and Mrs. Joseph Price, 1914 Washington avenue, Joliet. Mayra Price was hurled through a window into the station waiting room. All the injured were taken to hospitals.

William Taber, 31; his wife, Mrs. Eva Taber, 24, of 2927 Haines court, and Mrs. Minnie Zegerski, 36, of 2923 Haines court, were seriously injured when the car in which they were riding was struck by another driven by Clifford Linkhart of Gary, near Cook Ind.

Two Boys Are Hurt.

Louis Ganz, 5 years old, and his 7 year old brother, Flaminio, were seriously injured last night when they were struck near their home, 12245 Yale avenue, by an automobile driven by Julius Crotot, 324 West 119th street. Crotot said that the boys, who were on their way to a candy store, ran in front of his car. He was not held.

Giovanni Brusci, 32, 625 Aberdeen street, a tailor, was struck by a speeding automobile while in front of the Ashland Boulevard hospital, 5000 Ashland avenue, and passed fatally injured last night. Passer-by carried him into the hospital, where it was learned he had a fractured skull and a broken right leg. The motorist failed to stop after the accident.

ARMY REDUCES CROSS-COUNTRY FLIGHTS OF YEAR

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Owing to a shortage of planes, orders limiting cross-country flights during the remainder of the fiscal year to 500 miles except where special circumstances warrant longer journeys, have been issued to the army air corps.

The war department has worked out a program under which army pilots will fly new planes from factories to their assigned stations.

Three Bandits Get $800 in Wilson Ave. Holdup

Morris Che, manager of a drug store in the Sheridan Plaza hotel, Sherman park, and Wilson avenue, took $800 out of the till late last night when three strangers entered the place, and concealed the money behind a prescription counter. "You're not so smart," one of them said as they produced revolvers. "Hurry up and bring back that jack." Meanwhile his two companions ordered twelve customers in the store, several of them women, to throw up their hands. Che complied with the demand.

JOIN COMMUNIST PARTY, PLEA TO CHICAGO NEGROES

Easy Working Hours Pictured at Red Celebration

Negroes of Chicago were urged to join the Workers' Communist party in an appeal made yesterday at a celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Russian revolution in the Ashland boulevard auditorium, Ashland boulevard and Van Buren street. A picture of easy working conditions and a seven hour day under a soviet regime was presented to the colored workers as a reason for their cooperation in the Red movement.

There was a sprinkling of Negroes in the audience of 5,000 which packed the auditorium. Pamphlets had been distributed which declared that the workers of Russia were enjoying a high degree of social and economic freedom and that the Negroes of America would never enjoy racial freedom until a soviet government is set up here.

City Strike at Gary.

"Under the Russian workers' government a situation similar to the one that occurred at Gary, Ind., recently could not take place," the pamphlet stated. The reference was to the strike of 1,500 high school pupils at Gary because colored students were allowed in their school. The Negro pupils were removed before the strike was back to their classes.

Red was the dominant color of the celebration. Hundreds of women and girls wore brilliant red scarfs and the men wore red neckties. The ushers were garbed in red shirts. The meeting was climaxed by the entrance of 250 children, the girls dressed in red skirts and white middies with red scarfs and the boys in overalls and red shirts, singing a Russian war song.

Boy Scouts Are Assailed.

The children distributed magazines and posters attacking the Boy Scouts as a military organization and assaulting the public school system.

Jay Lovestone, executive secretary of the Workers' Communist party, was the principal speaker.

"We do not expect a revolution in America for some time, but the American workman, slow to get started, will finish the job in great fashion once he gets going," he said.

A boy orator harangued the 250 children who are organized into a group known as the Pioneers.

HIGH OFFICIALS IN INDIANA TO BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

Gov. Jackson and Deposed
Mayor Duvall in List.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—[Special]—Tomorrow is arraignment day in County Criminal court here, the most noteworthy occasion of its kind in years.

As a result of the fourteen month investigation of alleged wholesale political corruption in Indiana, the following tomorrow will stand in the defendants' dock:

JOHN L. DUVALL, recently re-joined mayor of Indianapolis, to face additional charges of misadministration, conviction on which would bring heavier penalties than the thirty day maximum now imposed by the indictment already imposed on him.

WILLIAM BUSER, Duvall's brother-in-law and former city controller.

EARL GARRET, former Duvall city market master.

JOHN COLLINS, former Duvall city purchasing agent.

VIRGIL VANDERGRIFT, former president of the Duvall board of

GOV. ED JACKSON, who is accused with County Republican Chairman George Coffin and Jackson's former law partner, Robert J. Marsh, with having attempted to bribe the former governor, Warren T. McCray, to let them dictate appointment of the county prosecutor here.

McCray, recently paroled from Alcatraz penitentiary, where he was sent for using the mails to defraud, will be the prosecution's principal witness.

Councilmen's Cases Well.

Because of these eight cases, arraignment of the four city commissioners in their five colleagues will meet with Duvall. These five will meet on Tuesday to name a new permanent mayor. The selected members, composing the majority faction, have refused to meet with a committee appointed by united civic groups which demand consideration of five business men chosen as desirable for the mayor's office from a large roster of citizens.

Democrats May AM.

Two Democratic members of the council asserted tonight they were willing to consider the civic groups' request.

ESSER WILL BE ARRAIGNED AS EMBEZZLER

John L. Esser, who was president of the Aurora Trust and Savings bank until a large shortage was discovered in his accounts, will be arraigned today before Magistrate W. F. Peck of Aurora on a charge of embezzlement.

Esser, who has been held in the Kane county jail at Geneva, will be taken to Aurora for the hearing. An examination of the bank's accounts by the state auditor showed that the shortage of the bank was about $325,000. Esser has admitted his peculation and offered all his property to make up part of the loss.

All the depositors of the bank were fully protected. The assets and liabilities of Esser's institutions were taken over by the newly organized Broadway Trust and Savings bank. Officials, headed by the new president, George W. Almuler, said that few of the depositors took advantage of the offer to pay them cash and that these were more than balanced by new depositors.

FORD IS BRIGHT PUPIL IN STUDY OF LOCOMOTIVE

PLYMOUTH, England, Nov. 6.—(UPI)—An American multimillionaire who understood engines so well that he did not ask any questions, furnished the greatest thrill experienced by William Young during his two months' stay in the United States exhibiting the largest locomotive ever built in England.

Arriving here today on the Caronia, Mr. Young said although bumpy roads gave him plenty of trouble when he was piloting his 125 ton locomotive, King George V, over American roads, he was not hampered in the least when he was on the Caronia.

Henry Ford claimed to the cabin of his engine during the Baltimore and Ohio's exposition of railroad progress at Baltimore.

"I didn't have to tell him the fine points of the locomotive," Young said. "He seemed to grasp them all at once; he discussed them scientifically and in a few minutes appeared to know as much about my pet as I did."

Episcopalians to Discuss $1,300,000 Budgets Today

Budgets which involve more than $1,000,000 for local work and $300,000 for the general church will be discussed this afternoon and evening at the Auditorium hotel at meetings of the clergy, wardens and vestrymen of the Episcopal church. The afternoon conference will be addressed by Dr. Edward J. Randall, diocesan secretary, and George A. Mason of Elgin Park. The evening meeting, which will be a banquet, will be opened by Bishop C. P. Anderson, Dr. George Craig Stewart of Evanston, and Ernest S. Ballard, Chicago attorney. The Rev. H. R. Brinker will preside at the afternoon conference and Charles D. Dallas, president of the Chicago Church club, at the dinner.

FRANCE'S MATCH MONOPOLY NOT A PAWN IN LOAN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)—PARIS, Nov. 6.—It was officially announced today with regard to the financial accord by which the International Match company will take $60,000,000 worth of French government bonds that this operation involved neither the sale nor leasing of the French match monopoly. It is pointed out that the chamber of deputies voted the sale or leasing of the monopoly last June. The present transaction is exclusively of a financial character. The deal with the American company is expected to save the French treasury $2,500,000 a year.

Why does the telephone dial have only 10
numerals and the Dalton 10 keys?

Simplicity — Speed — Efficiency — that's the answer.

American business leaders are too busy — modern competition is altogether too keen — to permit waste of a single business moment in needless movements on complicated systems.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Company is one of America's greatest engineering triumphs speeded up the country's business by reducing millions of individual telephone numbers and combinations of telephone numbers all over the country to 10 simple standard operations on a dial. In one great sweep they eliminated delay and reduced the human error hazard by making the telephone mechanically fool-proof.

Dalton's famous 10 key principle does exactly the same thing for America's business figures.

By applying the New Improved Dalton Bookkeeping Machine to your accounts receivable, accounts payable, stock records, branch account or installment accounts, you get better records at less cost.

You owe it to yourself to send for the Dalton Man TODAY. Competition, overhead and selling cost won't wait until tomorrow. Send for the Dalton Man TODAY—let him tell you about the Dalton's superior mechanical accounting made possible only by Dalton's famous 10 key principle—and securing for you that superior speed, accuracy and efficiency absolutely essential if you are to survive the fierce competition that surrounds you today.

GATHER TO FIGHT FOR REPEAL OF INHERITANCE TAX

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Formidable delegations, both in support of and in opposition to different features of the Mellon tax program will assemble this week in connection with hearings in progress before the house ways and means committee.

Representatives of every state are scheduled to attend the first annual convention of the national council of state legislatures which meets tomorrow with a view to urging the repeal of the estate tax as advocated by Secretary Mellon.

Spokesmen for this organization, which has been formed to further the movement for the restoration to the states of the exclusive right to tax inheritances, will appear before the house committee on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Several governors and numerous members of state legislatures are expected to be on hand to urge the repeal of the estate tax.

Resolutions for presentation to the ways and means committee will be the chief feature for consideration by tomorrow's meeting of the national council of state legislatures. Less than a week ago, former speaker of the Texas legislature, will call the meeting to order. William H. Blodgett, tax commissioner of Connecticut, will be in charge of presenting witnesses.

"Twenty-three states have adopted joint resolutions calling on congress to repeal the federal estate tax," said Mr. Blodgett today. "In six other states one house of the legislature has adopted such a resolution, and in 15 other states a canvas of members of both branches of the legislature shows that a majority favor a repeal of the law."

Representatives of every state are scheduled to attend the first annual convention of the national council of state legislatures which meets tomorrow with a view to urging the repeal of the estate tax as advocated by Secretary Mellon.

ITALY OBSERVES 9TH ANNIVERSARY OF ARMISTICE

[Chicago Tribune Free Service]

ROME, Nov. 4.—The ninth anniversary of Italy's armistice was marked by impressive ceremonies today at the basilica of St. Mary of the Angels, where the solemn service was attended by Premier Benito Mussolini, the Duke of Pistoia, who represented King Victor Emmanuel, foreign representatives, high officials of the army, navy and aviation corps, and representatives of the senate and chamber of deputies. Thousands of civilians and soldiers and sailors attended.

After the high mass the procession moved to the tomb of the unknown soldier, where thousands of wreaths were deposited. Reviews of troops were held throughout the country.

Although Nov. 4 is the real Italian Armistice day, Premier Mussolini postponed the celebration until Sunday, so as not to interfere with the nation's work.

DUCE PRAISES U. S. ARTIST'S PICTURE OF HIM

ROME, Nov. 4.—(AP)—When Howard

Chandler Christy, the American artist, accompanied by Mrs. Christy, went to the Villa Torlonia, Premier Mussolini's summer home outside of Rome, this afternoon to put the final touches on a portrait of Mussolini, which he painted in three sittings. Il Duce said:

"Many artists have placed my face on canvas, but you are the first to have pleased me there."

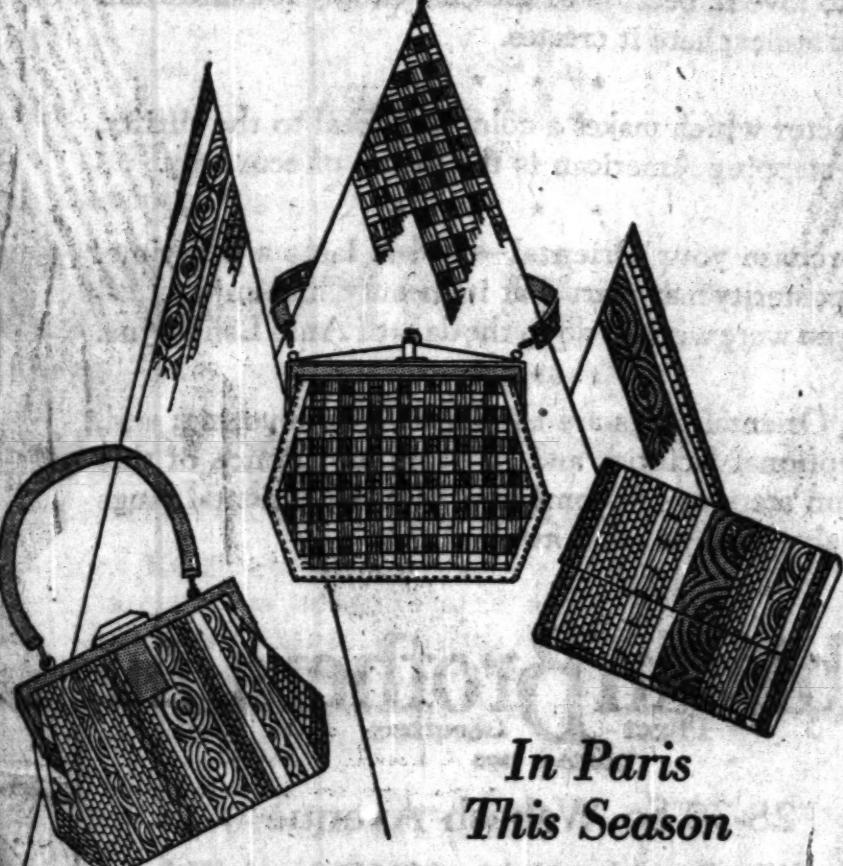

The painting shows Sig. Mussolini in riding costume, seated at a table, on which he clenched both hands, the white hand on the hip, one of his most characteristic poses. Il Duce was highly pleased and remarked to Mrs. Christy, who was present at all the sittings: "It is a better portrait than was ever painted of me."

Premier Mussolini received his visitors today in the music room, with his violin tucked under his chin.

To Keep that Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

Don't gamble with your skin. Use only a true complexion soap

Skin cleanliness is the modern basis of beauty. The rule for that schoolgirl complexion is never to leave powder, make-up or rouge on your face over night.

Now beauty experts urge careful washing with soap and water, regularly, each night.

But be sure you use only a true complexion soap. Be sure it is a beauty soap, one made for that purpose and no other. For otherwise you risk much.

Palmolive Soap has changed the world's conception of what a beauty soap should be. Before its creation all soaps were adjudged too harsh for women's faces. (Advertisement)

WORLD SEARCH ON FOR 'FAWN HOOF,' KENTUCKY QUEEN

She Ruled the Caveland
Thousands of Years Ago

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—[U. P.]—A search through the museums of the world has been started for the mummy of "Fawn Hoof," an amazon with bobbed red hair who, archeologists believe, ruled the caveman civilization of Kentucky thousands of years ago.

The perfectly preserved body of the ancient queen, wrapped in deer skins and buried with regal splendor, was unearthed in Mammoth cave in 1815. Until 1856 the mummy was exhibited in Mammoth cave, but at that time it disappeared.

A legend of the region holds that the spirits of Fawn Hoof's warriors repented the intrusion and buried their queen again in a cavern of the cave so concealed that it could never be penetrated.

Believe Mummy Stolen.
Members of the Mammoth Cave National Park association believe, however, that the mummy was stolen and sold either to a museum or to a private collector. They want it returned, both because it is a part of the lore of the region and because they believe scientists can make important deductions concerning past civilizations from the contents of the coffin.

Letters have been sent to all the important museums in the world, seeking information as to the whereabouts of the mummy.

According to old records in possession of the association, Fawn Hoof was a tall woman with dark red hair which had been cut short. She evidently died in battle or was murdered, because a wound sufficient to cause death was found.

Gandy Rishes in Coffin.
Her war dress and ornaments of sandy richness were in the coffin with the body, together with prehistoric utilitarian articles which, it is presumed, her followers believed she would need in the next world. There also was a supply of vegetable colors wrapped in leaves which were believed to have been used as rouge. Twenty red hoofs of fawns in the coffin account for the name given the mummy.

Scientists Marvelled at the Embalming Process Employed. Although the woman must have weighed more than 150 pounds in life, the mummy weighed only 14 pounds when it was discovered.

INVESTIGATE INDIAN'S DEATH.
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 6.—[U. P.]—Police are investigating when the body of a 20-year-old Indian boy was found in his sister's boat this morning by Harry McGuire, a 14-year-old boy who was in the boat hunting. The cause of death was not evident. McGuire was separated from his wife two weeks ago.

AND, indeed, Oriental Rugs are supreme—superior to all floor coverings.

To begin with there is luxury in generous measure in these bestored treasures of the Orient. To own an Oriental is to love it, because of the charmingly romantic and idealistic atmosphere it creates.

And a factor which makes a colossal appeal to the thrifty, forward-stepping American is the factor of economy.

You purchase your Oriental—and it lasts a life-time. Indeed, posterity may marvel at its beauty, and enjoy it all even as you were wont to do in the days of Auld Lang Syne.

And so, Oriental Rugs are the ideal floor-covering; and, the exceptional facilities and 37 years experience of this institution are yours to command. We sell Oriental Rugs exclusively—and no other kind.

YOUTH SOUGHT IN MURDER OF MILWAUKEE GIRL

Meet Mysterious Jack.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 6.—(Special)—A large broochpin and a pink felt hat, the only objects missing from the mutilated and garroted body of Lillian Graef, 18, Milwaukee, when it was found in the Fox river near Waukesha yesterday, occupied the attention today of detectives working under the personal supervision of Chief Jacob Laubenthaler.

Discovery of these objects may definitely establish the place where the girl was murdered when she left her home on the night of Oct. 11 to keep a date with a 23 year old youth known only as "Jack."

Search for the mysterious "Jack" described by Miss Graef's sister, Mildred, as "a perfect gentleman and apparently well educated," is being pushed with equal vigor. Police are reticent to believe, in view of the statements by Lillian's sister, that the youth wielded the iron bar which fractured the girl's skull or knotted the scarf which strangled her. The possibility that a third person, either a bandit or a jealous man or woman, may have slain both Lillian and Jack is partially strengthened by a report made to police by a rooming house proprietor. A man of 24 disappeared from his place about the time Lillian Graef was reported missing.

Another man sought is one about 45, driver of an expensive automobile, who called Lillian repeatedly at her place of employment in a confectionery store. August Ramhorst, proprietor of the store, said the phone calls ceased with Lillian's disappearance.

CANADIANS ASK IMMIGRANT LAW ON U. S. MODEL

(Chicago Tribune Free Service)
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 6.—Premiers of all nine Canadian provinces united in a demand upon the federal government for confirmation of non-British European immigration standards for a quota law for Canada, similar to United States regulations, were discussed seriously.

Western and eastern representatives joined in the argument that Canadian penitentiaries and asylums were for the most part inhabited by aliens, of a type which the desired selective immigration law would weed out. The provincial governments asked the same thing be done to keep the stock in the dominion predominantly British. Premier Brownlie of Alberta said there was distinct uneasiness in western Canada over the recent influx of central European peoples.

Robert Forke, minister of immigration, is to reply for the federal government Monday.

FATHER SMYTH OF EVANSTON IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Heart Attack Ends His 34
Year Pastorate.

Adherents of all faiths in Evanston are today mourning the death of the Rev. Hugh P. Smyth, LL.D., rector for life of St. Mary's Catholic church there, who died yesterday at St. Francis hospital following a heart attack. He was 72 years old and his pastorate at St. Mary's extended over a period of thirty-four years.

Comes to Chicago Church.
Father Smyth was born in County Cavan, Ireland. He attended college at All Hallows in Dublin and was ordained in 1881. Not long afterward he came to America and was made assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity, Union avenue and 37th street, which office he served for nine years. He then served for years as pastor of St. Francis in Evanston.

Democratic in his ways, interested in all movements for civic reform, and in frequent demand as a speaker and lecturer, Father Smyth became well known and well liked in Evanston among both Protestants and Catholics.

Honored by Archbishops.

Archbishop Gleeson of St. Louis honored him by attending his silver jubilee anniversary festivities in 1906. The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on him by Loyola University in 1924 and he was invited on several occasions to lecture before the students at Northwestern University.

He was the author of several works on the Roman Catholic faith, including "The Informer," "The Ministry to the Truth," and "The God of Our Fathers."

The Rev. James O'Donnough, pastor of St. James church, was his cousin. He is also survived by two cousins and a niece, who are members of the Dominican order of nuns.

Dancing Man Must Be More than Dancer to Get Smart Party Bids

BY NANCY R.

If the new lines of the winter seem smaller than usual, it's not. I'm told by one who knows, because there's a dearth of dancing men, but because there are both young and old, have given us the "three men to one girl" idea, and are now demanding quality rather than quantity.

Not only the anxious mothers but the girls now seek the lists with a gleaming eye, and those who are not known to them or who have in recent past been wont to bring their old tasks and leave their good ones at home, are not being noticed.

Where once a social secretary had only to know that a man could dance, was attractive, and the "friend of a friend," she must now be able to sketch in a background of family and reliable friends before admitting him to the "inner circle." All of which could seem to indicate a throw back to the standards of a by-gone day, when it was something of a social achievement, as well as a compliment, to be asked to the most parties of the winter.

But hush-ha, to return to our secretions. One of the interesting stories described this week on Chicago's most visited book is that of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Loon, the successful man, if you please, who arrived on Saturday to spend the week-end with the William Johnstons of 29 East Chestnut street.

He hosts gave a luncheon for Mr. Van Loon at the Drake on Saturday, their guests including Mrs. William H. Savine, Miss Jane Scriven, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Matthiessen, John T. McComb, the Broz Dahnberg, and Edward Laffin. Mrs. Louis Laffin extended for him yesterday in Lake Forest.

Besides being a lecturer, a historian and artist, Mr. Van Loon is a tall and friendly gentleman with a keen sense of humor, an aggressive nose, a red-headed son, a Holland accent and a flame-colored tie, and although he is returning to New York tomorrow, he has promised to visit Chicago again in the near future.

Day's News in Society

Miss Lillian Wheeler, daughter of Mr. Arthur Dana Wheeler of 25 East Delaware place, has asked her future sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Tyner, to be among her attendants for her marriage on Nov. 17 to John Gage Tyner, son of Mrs. Elmer Tyner of Washington. Miss Wheeler's maid of honor will be matron of honor and the other bridesmaids will include Miss Marion Dixon, Miss Emily and Miss Marion Smith of Highland Park, and Miss Alice Little. Young McPherson Holt is to be a page. The service is to be read at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Fourth Presbyterian church, the Rev. John Timothy Stone officiating. The reception at the Mayfield will follow.

The principal parties include a supper party next Sunday evening to be given by Mrs. William J. Louderback in Highland Park, and a dinner party to be given the next evening by Miss Alice Little, followed by a supper dance at which Miss Marion Dixon is to be hostess. Miss Ellen Holt is to give the bridal bouquet at the old Mayfield hotel in Lake Forest the evening before the ceremony. Miss Gordon Wheeler is to give a spinster's party on the Tuesday preceding the wedding, the same evening that Mr. Tyner is to give his bachelor dinner. Miss Marion and Miss Emily Smith are to give a theater party on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Berland of 1425 Astor street and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hartman of 1511 State parkway are to give a small dinner party at the Carlton on Friday evening, Dec. 14.

The Agnes table committee of the Friendly Aid society is sponsoring a visit to the Bernard Marshall studio at Wilmette harbor from 8 to 8 o'clock this afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. Bernard Sunny, Mrs. Charles Flitmore, Mrs. Walter True, Mrs. Pearson Marsh, Mrs. Roy Barr, and Mrs. William Mitchell.

The Drama league is to have a theater party at the Foster's home of the production of "The Doctor's Dilemma" at the Student's this evening. Among those who have made reservations are Mrs. Van Wagener Ailing, Mrs. Charles H. Easly, Mrs. Francis W. Farwell, Mrs. Frank McNair, and Mrs. Calvin A. Whynard.

Mr. William H. Bush gave a debuts luncheon at Shoreacres yesterday for Mrs. James Josephine Munroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Munroe of 1294 Lake Shore drive, and Miss Anna Wadsworth of Glen and Mrs. Robert E. Wood of Highland Park.

Mr. George Norton Northrop of 27 East Schiller street returned yesterday from New York City, where she has been the house guest of Mrs. Lawrence J. Rigg.

Mr. George Thompson has closed his house in Oyster Bay and before returning to New York will spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spaulding Schley in Garden City.

Miss Doris Godwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cortlandt Godwin, will give a luncheon at Sherry's on Dec. 24 for her debutante sister, Miss Priscilla Godwin.

Phi Psi Convention.

Phi Psi sorority is to open its annual convention with a business meeting this evening. Other events will include a formal dance at the Grosvenor hotel on Thursday evening, a final dinner on Saturday evening.

Miss Grace Sutcliffe, president of the grand chapter, is in charge of the arrangements, and is being assisted by Miss Pauline Proctor, Miss Edythe Davis, and Miss Marion Sweet.

Library Dinner Meeting.

"Chicago, as a world center for library interests" is to be the keynote of a dinner meeting to be held tomorrow evening at the University club. George Woodruff, vice chairman of the National Bank of the Republic, will preside as chairman. Dr. Max Mason, president of the University of Chicago, will speak on "Books and the Technique of Living."

NEW YORK SOCIETY

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The expenditure for cathartic drugs in the United States is estimated at over fifty million dollars a year.

It is estimated further that seventy-five per cent of the ill to which the flesh is heir may be blamed on faulty elimination.

In the matter of beautyills, in which we are most concerned in this department, constipation is the chief cause of fifty per cent of all.

For complete health lead in the enumeration of beautyills that may be directly traced to the alimentary tract.

Hair troubles follow, since healthy hair is fed by clean blood streams.

Bad breath is another fault with many victims. Fat, even, is piled on when the eliminative organs cease their work. Thick-headedness, lassitude, headache, sluggish and out of sorts feelings all make a less attractive person.

A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract daily improves not only the looks but the feelings to an extent that is nothing short of phenomenal.

Physicians condemn regular or excessive use of cathartics.

The habit is an enslaving one; the dosage must be gradually increased or stronger remedies must be resorted to for relief.

There are simple measures of overcoming the fault, methods that are harmless and effective. Minor oil enemas, intestinal elimination through the rectum. Then, because of its bulk, distorts the intestines and tends mechanically to clean out waste. Yeast has laxative action. And water drinking, the simplest treatment of all, is the best aid to sluggish intestines.

A simple practice, which can be indulged in every day for an indefinite period, and has been done by many persons with the most satisfactory results, is drinking on first arising in the morning a liberal amount of water with lemon juice. This salt water is not absorbed, but runs through the stomach and intestines and washes them out. The early morning is recommended for the damage because the stomach is practically empty except for saliva and small residues of secretion.

A quart of water is prepared, the water neither warm nor cold, into which two level teaspoonsful of salt have been stirred. It should taste slightly salty. The water should be taken in the morning, before eating breakfast, as the time to take it. Drink as much as is possible, with comfort, two cups, three, or the full quart if you can take it.

Laces Are Popular for Evening Gowns.

BY JEANETTE EATON.

NEW YORK.—Special Correspondent.—We are accumulating nowadays our scrupled interest in lace. Ecru and cream laces register strongly as a means of giving some of these severe frocks that ultra-feminine touch so much in demand. The present accent on brown and beige tones has given to laces of this type a special meaning, and they are succeeding admirably with insets, vestoses, borders, and edgings.

All over laces in cream and beige shades are also much in evidence. They either carry full responsibility for the frock, or combine with tulle or chiffon—especially for the development of full skirted robes à la style. Today we indicate quite a different opportunity for lace. Over the frock of white satin is posed a sleeveless coat of lace, which falls in straight lines a little below the dress hem. Of the same lace are executed the borders for hem and low neck.

Here we see only one example of the numerous alliances which make evening frocks of special interest this year. Length, for instance, uses white satin exactly as if it were lace in bandings embroidered with crystals to ornament a frock of white satin. Another couturier combines cream lace with beige velvet in a delightful costume in which the lace forms the side drapery and is brought around to make a deep transparent skirt flounce which is decidedly lengthened in the back.

Metallic laces are also much in evidence. One striking frock observed at a formal ball used silver lace in a deep banding, which was repeated for the skirt of a dress of white velvet. All for lace, black lace, it was never better. Either used for the frock itself or in combination with velvet, tulle, or chiffon it appears to lose little of its hereditary prestige.

DUNDEE AGREES TO BOX HUDKINS
ON COAST NOV. 21

All Day Conference
Ends Squabble.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 6.—[Special.]
Joe Dundee and Ace Hudkins are to meet for the welterweight championship of the world at Wrigley Field here on Nov. 21.

This was the agreement reached today following an all day conference between the principals in last Thursday's fiasco when Dundee failed to appear in the ring after a row with promoter Dick Galler.

MAX WAXMAN, (P. & A. Photo,) aid over the payment of a $50,000 guarantee which Dundee claimed was due him.

Settling, state athletic commissioner, presided over today's conference, which was attended by Dundee,
Max Waxman, his manager, Dick Donald, promoter, and R. D. Kneibscher, his attorney. Only Hudkins lacked representation, but according to Strelinger, he also will agree to the terms.

Dundee to Post $25,000.

It was stipulated that Dundee is to post $20,000 in cash with Commissioner Strelinger as a guarantee of his appearance in the ring. Dundee, the promoter, is to post $50,000 also and agreement was reached that Dundee will pay $10,000 to Tom Galler.

Hudkins is to post $10,000 with Strelinger to insure his appearance.

According to Strelinger, Dundee signed an agreement at the conference to the effect that he would accept without question any referee named by Strelinger.

Cash customers at last Thursday's affair will be given the same or nearly seats for the Nov. 21 bout on presentation of their old ticket stubs.
The hundreds who paid $25 to get in last Thursday and who were given no ticket stubs will be out of luck.

$50,000 on Deposit.

Strelinger announced that all the funds taken in at the gate last Thursday have been collected and are now on deposit in a local bank. They amount to $50,000 in cash and other negotiable paper.

The commissioner said the result was "the only way out" after the recent fiasco and subsequent arrests. He said he anticipated no opposition from the state or city authorities.

Joe Dundee and Max Waxman, who were called on an east bound train at Passaic to answer to warrants charging false advertising, will enter their plea in Municipal court tomorrow morning.

post against the wind and the Cards took the ball on the Green Bay 45 yard line. Off tackle thrusts made it down, and then Mickey McDonald had a long pass to Bob Weller. Gandy took it and grabbed the ball after it had bounced off the fingers of Red Dunn. Green Bay quarter back, and fell over the goal line to give the south Siders the lead. The kick was wide.

In the final quarter the Packers opened up with their deceptive long passing game, and with Dilwey and Gandy on the receiving end worked the ball down the field to the Cardinal 5 yard strip, from where Llewellyn went over to tie the count. Dunn's kick was blocked. Lineups:

Red Grange did not play.

NATALIE PASSES UP TITLE MATCH; PURSE TOO SMALL

Pasquale Natalie, challenger for Frank Taber's national pocket billiard championship, probably will have to pass up his match with the title holder, which had been scheduled at Schenectady, N. Y., on Nov. 18, he announced yesterday. The purse guaranteed is only $350, and Natalie objects to playing because the loser's end of the purse would not cover his expenses.

The challenger obtained a guarantee of $500 from a local room, which is anxious to have the title match played here. Mr. Taber has declined the offer and expressed his regret over deciding where the match should be staged. Arthur Woods is the next ranking challenger and may be substituted for Natalie, the latter said.

STOCK MARKET SEEMS TO GET SECOND WIND

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Every person who walks in the woods or forest preserves should have in his hiking gear pocket a copy of "Forest Trees of Illinois—How to Know Them." Ninety-four species of trees are described in this handbook. A sketch of the leaf, twig and fruit or nuts of each tree is given, making identification easy. To the hiker unfamiliar with the various kinds of trees that grow in this part of the country this book will be as handy as rules on bridge in the hands of a beginner. For example, there are seventeen different kinds of oak trees described, ten hickories, five elms, seven ash trees, four maples, and four poplars.

It is an interesting game to take this book along on a hike and try to see how many trees you can identify. About seventy-three species of trees or conifers live in Richland county, Illinois, and have identified by Robert Ridgway of Oisey, Ill. In Hancock county Miss Alice Kibbe has found fifty-three native species, and in Champaign county Prof. W. R. McDougall lists 20 native species found in the university woods at Urbana, Ill.

Do you know of a bigger tree than the old bur oak at Paris, Ill., which measures eighteen feet in circumference when the tape is applied broad high and 100 feet tall? Union county boasts of an old bur oak 230 years old that yielded close to 5,000 board feet of lumber.

The best other information is in "Forest Trees of Illinois," written by R. B. Miller, Illinois chief forester, and Wilbur R. Mattson, federal extension forester. For copies of this book write to the Department of conservation, Springfield, Ill.

This was what last week's recovery on the stock exchange indicated. It was indicated also by the closer attention bestowed on various offsetting considerations. That attitude can hardly yet be accepted as reflecting change of mind regarding the general position. But it shows a disposition to balance all the probabilities. Wall street, which lately was refusing to consider any sign of slackening trade, has on previous occasions of the kind been apt to rush to the other extreme of impulsive pessimism. That has apparently been escaped.

Various Trade Barometers.

Up to the present day, the character of existing trade reaction has been chiefly defined by the steel and iron production reports, the traffic loading weekly on the railways, gross and net earnings reported by the railways for September and quarterly income statements by great industrial corporations. These sources of information thus may be briefly summarized:

Production of steel, while slightly larger than in the middle of October, is less than the July or August average and 30 per cent below that of a year ago. October's iron output was 16 per cent under 1926 and 8 per cent under 1925. Steel car loadings are running 6 per cent less than a year ago, but are exceeding the corresponding week in all previous years. Railway earnings for September, as far as published, have indicated average decrease of about 4 per cent in gross from 1925 and 9 or 10 per cent in net, and the larger companies did not match October's earnings in 1925. With the decrease from each of the two last years in September quarter earnings reported by the steel making companies, readers of the financial news are familiar; the quarterly results with other

WHEAT TRADERS CAUTIOUS; LARGE SUPPLY FORECAST

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

With Argentina's wheat harvest about to start in two or three weeks and weather there uncertain, combined with the heavy marketing of wheat in the Canadian northwest, although farmers' sales and Winnipeg receipts have lessened, the wheat trade is in a position where prices are at a moderate level.

Leading forces are so mixed that traders are timid about extending their commitments on either side.

Last week's fluctuations were within a range of 45¢ and the close showing net gains of 4¢@14¢, the latter being the highest since Aug. 1 aggregate $4,565,000 bu, against 57,915,000 bu last year.

December oats closed Saturday at 45¢, March, 47¢, and May, 50¢. Net gains for the week were 4¢@14¢. Prices follow:
